Special by wire to Times-Democrat. Memphis, July 30.—Peter Tibb, who by throwing carbolic acid, blinded and deafened Mrs. Torrey, was captured last evening and made a confession to the officers. It is feared that an attempt will be made to lynch him. Mrs. Torrey, his victim, remains deafened and is entirely blind, as a result of the assault. One who claims to have seen the deed, says that after Tibb threw the acid in the woman's face, he held her and rubbed the acid into her eyes. It has since been to the bone and the eyes were almost totally consumed. Mrs. Torrey several times refused to marry Tibb.

To be Placed in Any of the Plants.

Such are Terms Proposed by Trust Officials to End the Strike.

Trust Makes One Concession Which Grants the Union Permission to Organize Any Mill it Operates.

Pittsburg, July 30.—Everybody is on the qui vive in strike circles because of the conference of the leaders of the two contending forces.

The executive committee of the Amalgamated association met at the headquarters of the organization at 10 o'clock and took up the proposition of the United States Steel corporation for a settlement of the steel strike.

There was no change in the position of the two contestants. Both sides held firmly to the plan of watching each other. The officials of the Wood mill of the American Sheet Steel company made no attempt to start the plant, and indications pointed to their remaining inactive until the strike negotiations are decided one way or the other.

Monday was a busy day for President Shaffer and the executive officials of the Amalgamated association. There was a steady stream of callers and innumerable conferences bearing on the proposed settlement of the strike. President Shaffer was firm in his determination not to talk on the strike situation until after the meeting or until the decision had been reached by the executive committee concerning the proposition of the United States Steel corporation.

Joseph Bishop, secretary of the Ohio board of arbitration, had a conference with President Shaffer. His visit was in connection with the strike and its probable settlement. What was said, however, was not divulged. It is believed Mr. Bishop has been actively engaged in bringing about the last conference between the strikers and the steel trust.

One of the most apparent facts in the status of the strike was the determination of the strikers to lose no ground in their struggle during the peace negotiations. It was explained that this plan was absolutely necessary in order that the position of the Amalgamated association should be strong after the settlement.

The following proposed terms of settlement of the strike came from an authoritative source: The Amalgamated association is to drop contention for the signing of a scale for all mills; 11 mills to be "open" in the mill; all mills to be "open" in the mill; in the right to place a non-union man in any plant and keep him there; in addition to the plants covered by the expired scale it is to be signed for the W. Dewees Wood of McKeesport, Painter Lindsey & McCutcheon and Clark mills of Pittsburg and Monessen plants of the American Steel Hoop company, the question of making the Wellsville sheet plant and the Monessen tin plate plant directly covered by the scale to be settled by the conference; the Amalgamated association is to have the privilege of organizing the men in any of the plants.

BOTH

Political Parties to Open The Campaign

At About the Same Time This Year.

The Democracy Have Strong Ticket and a Good Committee.

Colonel Kilbourne Will Take an Active Personal Part in the Campaign from the First to the Finish.

Special by wire to Times-Democrat. Columbus, O., July 30.—The organization of the Democratic state central committee and partial organization of the state executive committee places the party in a better position for prosecuting the practical work of the campaign than it has occupied in recent years. Last year and the year previous the party managers were lamentably late in getting things in shape for real work. The conventions of both those years were held later than the one this year and organization was consequently postponed until a day so late that it discouraged many Democrats who believe in the old maxim that "the early bird gets the worm."

This year the Democracy is much earlier in the field, and what is more important, contemporaneously with the Republicans. The two parties will open their state headquarters practically at the same time and Democrats will not again be humiliated by offensive operations of their opponents while their own committee is still in embryo. Chairman Dick has taken charge of affairs at Republican headquarters within the past few days and for the first time in his career finds his opponents organized at the opening of the preliminary campaign on his part.

The selection of the Democratic committee is regarded as an unusual happy one because it unites all interests and leaves the personal of the committee free from petty factionalism. Colonel Kilbourne practically named the chairman, Hon. M. A. Daugherty, of Lancaster, as it was conceded he had a right to do; but his choice was endorsed by all the other candidates on the ticket and was unanimously supported in the committee. The best interests of the party are apparently subserved in the selection of the following well-known Democrats as Mr. Daugherty's associates: W. L. Finley, C. D. Crites of Lima, C. W. Stage of Cleveland, L. G. Bernard of Cincinnati, N. D. Cochran of Toledo, G. M. Saltzberger of Van Wert, V. J. Dahl of Washington C. H., W. B. Williams of Columbus, Charles H. Isbell of Akron, E. A. Rowley of Norwalk and John J. Molter of Sandusky. It will be observed that geographically the committee represents all sections of the state and that politically it has an extraordinary harmonizer of varied interests.

Contrary to custom the executive committee was not organized in full simultaneously with the organization of the state central committee. This was due to Colonel Kilbourne's desire to have the executive committee, except with reference to the chairman, organize its own body. This will be done at the meeting in this city called for next Monday, and there is no reason to modify the prediction heretofore made in this correspondence that the secretary will be Judge R. M. Ditty, and the treasurer, W. H. Williams. The details of the campaign will be in charge of Daugherty, Ditty and Williams, with the full committee meeting frequently in the capacity of an advisory board. For chief of the literary bureau it is probable that Colonel W. A. Taylor will be selected. The chairman of the speakers' bureau is not so certain a quantity and unusual care this year will be made in his selection. The campaign headquarters at the Great Southern hotel will be opened the first of next week, with all appointments made and the committee ready for business.

Colonel Kilbourne proposes to take an active part in both the committee work and the speaking campaign. Between now and election he will devote all of his time to the party's interests, having arranged his business affairs with this end in view. He will break the record for the head of the ticket's presence at headquarters, and if his health continues as at present, will speak in every county in the state. Just now the Colonel is in exceptionally good form physically and looks forward to an active campaign rather than an enjoyment than as a necessary expenditure of vitality.

In this connection it may be said that if the Democratic candidate's model speech accepting the nomination is an index to his campaign oratory, he will prove a power on the stump. His Republican critics have frequently, and in a disparaging tone declared that Kilbourne is "no orator," and if by this they mean that he is not a rhetorical word-painter of a prodigious verbal explosives, they are right. But it is a fact that he is always a forceful and at times an eloquent speaker, invariably in full command of his own powers, making himself the master of his talents rather than permitting them to run rampant over him. Equally important and in his favor is the fact that he always leaves a good personal impression after what he has to say has been said—a characteristic not always present even in the most forceful of orators. Colonel Kilbourne's individuality on the stump inspires respect and invites confidence. He leaves the impression that he is well-poised man, competent to be entrusted with public or private interests, and if there is anything more convincing than this qualification in political oratory, the American forum has not yet given birth to it.

The alleged bolt of the falsely called "Bryan Democrats" has reached the ludicrous stage even while it is a burning. The Preyer-Groot aggregation is scheduled to meet in this city the last day of this month, but interest in the event up to the present time is strictly confined to Preyer and Groot, unless we expect General Dick, who is really the prime mover in the affairs, just as he was in 1897 when he earned the sobriquet of "Check-book" by his peculiar operations with Hugo Preyer in connection with the Populist convention of that year. There are indications, however, leading to the belief that even Dick now sees that the game can't be played this year. Lincoln's maxim that "you can't fool all the people all the time" is gradually penetrating the thinking apparatus of the Republican chairman, and it is probable that Preyer and Groot will have to "cease" without any large distribution of twenty-five dollar checks from the Republican campaign fund. Governor Nash has no sympathy with this revival of an old and played-out scheme, and to his intimate advisers he has not hesitated to denounce it as both crooked and useless. In the absence of any sympathy from the head of the ticket, and with the moral certainty facing them that they can fool nobody, Dick and Malloy are painfully considering how they can withdraw from the proposed "bolt" without further involving themselves.

At no time since the convention has there been the slightest doubt that Mr. Bryan would give the ticket his most cordial support, nor that he was in sympathy with all the declarations of the platform. His letter to Groot repudiating the latter's alleged "confidence" was hardly necessary to show the attitude of the Nebraska statesman toward such a palpable fraud. "I like Kilbourne and hope to see him elected," is Mr. Bryan's terse but comprehensive comment on the Democratic nominee for governor in a letter to a friend in this city. Bryan's Democracy, however, is not of the kind that requires affidavits or signed statements to prove its sincerity and devotion. From the moment the candidates were nominated and the platform adopted there has not been the slightest doubt that his whole influence would be in favor of Democratic victory in Ohio this year, as heretofore; and the 470,000 Democrats of this state who voted for him for president are of the same mind.

Special by wire to Times-Democrat. Toledo, July 30.—At 7 o'clock this morning when every one was supposed to be at breakfast, night watchman George Ammon was overpowered by four desperate prisoners, who, at the muzzle of revolvers that had been smuggled in, compelled him to keep silent while the tied him. He was not tied without struggle, however, during which he was quite severely injured. The prisoners took his keys, coolly opened all the doors and walked to freedom. It was half an hour before Ammon's plight and the absence of the prisoners was discovered. The escaped prisoners are Joseph Evans, alias "Topeka Kid," a post office robber, held for robbery of the West Toledo post office and wanted in many parts of the country; Thomas Stewart, alias "Hoosier Kid" and Joseph Seldewand, alias Thomas Keegan, both pals of Topeka Joe and held for the same offense. The fourth man in the party is David Morgan held for burglary and not known to have any connection with Topeka Joe's gang. The officials in all the nearby towns have been notified of the escape of the desperate crowd.

To be Required

Of the President of the Cuban Republic.

Provisions of the Measure to Govern Elections on the Island.

Senators to be Elected by the Legislatures of the Various Provinces—How Elections Will be Governed.

Havana, July 30.—There was a good attendance at the session of the Cuban constitutional convention when the electoral bill, as drafted by the electoral commission, was submitted. The measure provides for universal suffrage, but restrictions as to ability to read and write are imposed in the case of officeholders.

Governors of the provinces and provincial legislators must be of Cuban birth or have been naturalized eight years. They must be at least 30 years old. They must possess title by public decree or have filled office by popular vote. The same restrictions regarding citizenship are laid upon congressmen, who must be 25 years old. Senators must be Cuban by birth and 35 years old.

The president must be a Cuban or naturalized. In the latter case, as provided by the constitution, he must have served in the Cuban army 10 years. He must be at least 40 years old. The same conditions apply to the vice president. Presidential electors shall be Cubans by birth or have been naturalized eight years, and they must be 30 years old.

Senators shall be elected by provincial legislatures and an equal number of citizens. One-half of the latter must be Cuban by birth or have been naturalized eight years. They must be at least 25 years old and may be able to read and write. They must have resided in the province for two years and be among the largest real estate taxpayers. The other half must have professional degrees or must have held public office. Four senators shall represent each province.

In the provincial legislatures minority representation is provided for, Havana having 20 members, Santa Clara 17, Santiago 17, Matanzas 15, Pinar Del Rio 12 and Puerto Principe 1.

Havana will have 17 congressmen, Santiago 12, Santa Clara 14, Matanzas 8, Pinar Del Rio 7 and Puerto Principe 8.

Havana will have 21 presidential electors, Santiago 17, Santa Clara 18, Matanzas 12, Pinar Del Rio 11 and Puerto Principe 8. The project provides for two elections. At the first will be elected governors of provinces, provincial legislators and senatorial electors. At the second, to be held eight days later, congressmen and presidential electors will be chosen; 30 days after the second election the presidential electors are to elect the president.

CAUSE OF TORRID HEAT

Garrett P. Serviss' Explanation of the Great Outburst.

LOCAL CAUSES INSUFFICIENT.

Disastrous Visitation of Hot Wave Directly Traceable, Says the Astronomer, to Variations in Output of Radiation From the Sun—Sun Spots Mean Four Scorching Years.

The burning heat now afflicting the whole of the United States and felt also on the other side of the Atlantic and generally throughout the northern hemisphere is a convincing proof of the fact that the earth is the satellite of a variable star, says Garrett P. Serviss, writing from Ithaca, N. Y., to the New York Journal.

Only on the assumption that the source of terrible heat is directly in the sun and due to an extraordinary increase in its effective radiation can the widespread and long continued nature of the present meteorologic disaster be satisfactorily explained. Local causes are insufficient. The earth itself contains no store of heat capable of accounting for the outburst, and the suggested explanation that we are passing through a region of space where an uncommonly high temperature prevails is invalidated if for no other reason by the fact that similar periods of excessive temperature have occurred many times within the limits of recorded history and in a certain cyclical order, while from what we know of the direction of motion of the solar system through space we can confidently affirm that the earth does not pass again and again through the same region, but flies always northward along with the sun.

Accordingly we are driven to the belief that the source of the trouble is only in the sun. All astronomers know that the face of the sun is blanketed with absorbing vapors, while its interior is much hotter than the glowing shell that we see. Strip off the vaporous blanket entirely, and the surface of the earth would probably burst into flame and come in the instantaneous gust of unbearable heat that would be poured upon it. Whenever, as occurs periodically, though not always to the same extent, the solar vapors are thinned the heat from within hops out through the weakened shell and strikes the earth and the other nearby planets as with a blast of fire from the suddenly opened door of a blazing furnace.

That is what has happened this summer, and the immediate agency that has been upon the furnace door and sent forth the destroying blast is the mysterious power whose visible manifestation is the presence of black sun spots. But it is a mistake to suppose that the sun spots themselves exercise any direct influence upon the weather or that there must be spots on the sun whenever there is extraordinary heat on the earth. The spots are simply indicators of the sun's condition, resembling in that respect the eruptions on the face of a smallpox patient. They tell the story of the sun's internal convulsions and indicate some of the places on its surface where the pent up forces are bursting out.

The sun is subject to strange physical disorder which shakes its system to the very center and, like a malarious disease, recurs in more or less regular periods, but with varying intensity. In fact, the similarity to some of the recurrent diseases that afflict humanity goes so far that there is a kind of double period in the sun spot cycle, and we have just now arrived at the beginning of the great primary period of the cycle which is marked by intensification of the solar disturbances. Hence the force blasts of the destroying sunshine that have dried and parched the air, dissipated its gathering moisture, scattered the assembling storm clouds and out of a cloudless sky dropped scorching atmospheric sheets upon the cornfields of the west until the very soil has seethed on the point of catching fire.

There are manifestations of the opening of a new sun spot period before the spots themselves begin to break forth in any number. Presently they will follow, and half way between the equator and the poles of the sun congeries of black aureole, with blazing, white patches about them, will break forth, and the spectroscopic will show shooting upward from these volcanic centers of disturbance immense masses of metallic vapor and gleaming hydrogen leaping hundreds of thousands of miles high and giving an impressive demonstration of the unimaginable might of the forces that wrench the center of the solar system.

For the next four years these gigantic outbursts will increase in fury, and a corresponding series of terrestrial seasons, marked by great excesses of temperature, sudden contrasts and extraordinary cyclonic disturbances, will follow. Nothing can be more certain than an increase in the near future in the number of several displays and magnetic storms, consequent upon the recurrence of the solar disorder.

Dr. W. J. S. Lockyer has just shown by an elaborate comparison of data that there is a great sun spot cycle covering the ordinary 11 year cycle once in 55 years, and that we are now at the beginning of this great cycle. Its culmination will coincide with that of 1859, a year that was famous for its intensity. Professor Edward Bruckner has demonstrated that once in 55 years there is a periodical variation of climate over the whole earth, and this variation falls in exactly with the greater sun spot cycle just described. The cycle is especially marked by hot, dry summers and electric storms.

Thus it will be seen that there is good scientific ground for the assertion that

The Non-Irritating Cathartic Hood's Pills

Easy to take, easy to operate—

Hood's Pills

The present disastrous visitation is directly traceable to the variations in the output of radiation from our great variable star, the sun. But this time the energies concerned are so uncomparably more powerful, and there is some reason to think that the activity of the sun is increasing rather than diminishing as time goes on, so that in the more or less remote future the consequences of its periodic outbursts may be even more calamitous than at present, but it is a matter in which we are yet perfectly helpless. We cannot govern the furnace of the sun nor reach nor induce its strokes. We must face and endure it as we find it, without the possibility of interfering for our own comfort or safety, a fact that will become more and more a source of hopelessness as our knowledge of the cause of these variations and the nature of their effects upon the earth increases.

To be the playing and victim of a variable star without knowing the source of one's discomfort is surely more unfortunate than to know without being able to interfere. Yet who on that account would throw away the knowledge of these things that has been acquired? Knowledge has never failed to justify the adage that it is power, and increased knowledge may save the cornfields and stock markets of the future even from the fiercest sun blazes.

IRON AND CONCRETE.

New Method of Construction in the Netherlands.

The Amsterdamse Fabriek van Cement Izer Werken has furnished United States Consul L. H. at the Amsterdam office, with the following description of a new system of construction which is used in the new Postal Savings bank building of that city, now approaching completion, says the Washington Star.

"In the Monier system of building an iron framework, looking much like a birdcage, is entirely enveloped in concrete of Portland cement, which prevents the iron from getting rusty and at the same time renders the concrete elastic. The iron, or rather steel, acts entirely in tension, the concrete in pressure. This construction is at once strong, fireproof and waterproof and entails no outlay for repairs.

"Patents have been taken out in various countries, and in Germany a joint stock company, with a capital of 2,500,000 marks, has been formed. An establishment of concrete iron works has been opened in the province of Zealand and another in Amsterdam. This company has made a number of experiments, resulting in the application of the construction, described as an economic substitute in many cases for steel constructions, generally used heretofore.

"Floors without beams measuring 7½ by 7½ meters (24½ feet) and 8½ by 8½ meters (27½ feet) have been constructed for the Postal Savings bank at Amsterdam, and a floor of 300 square meters (2,228 square feet) constructed as made for a government building at The Hague. Complicated formulae being required in the calculation of concrete iron floors and beams, the directors of the company have had some graphic tables drawn up which enable them to find at a glance the necessary data for the work. These calculations and tables are kept strictly secret.

"This system is growing rapidly in favor in all European countries in the construction of government buildings and in manufacturing. It is believed that in a comparatively few years it will have replaced brick, wood, iron, etc., in the building trade. The method is especially adapted for bridges. The Monier system will undoubtedly meet with considerable success in the new world, as many tanks, etc., now made of concrete only could be conveniently constructed of concrete iron."

Heartburn. When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, heartburn is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let in hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, indicating that you have eaten too much, take one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the heartburn may be avoided. ## SWIFT SHIPS PLANNED.

Fleet of Four Day Atlantic Liners Proposed.

WOULD BE DRIVEN BY TURBINES.

Crude Texas Petroleum to Be Used as Fuel, and the Vessels Would Make Thirty Knots—Great Saving in Expenses—C. R. Flint's Forty Knot Yacht.

Charles R. Flint has a fondness for fast boats. An ordinarily fast craft won't do for him. He must have something that will go through the water faster than any other vessel afloat, says the New York Sun. A few years ago he had a boat faster, but somebody built a boat that was as fast or faster, and Mr. Flint then gave a commission to Charles D. Mosher to design and to Ayres of New York to build a boat, called a yacht for convenience, which should be able to travel 40 knots an hour. The boat has been called the Arrow, and in a few days she will have her official trials.

Since Mr. Flint gave the commission for a 40 knot boat others interested in fast vessels have been trying to figure out whether it would be possible and profitable to build not a yacht, but an ocean liner, that would cross the Atlantic in four days. One of the persons who took up this problem was George Wilson, president of the Atlantic Shipping company of New York city. Mr. Wilson believes that his engineers and designers have solved the problem by the use of turbine engines driven by the direct impact of the combustion of crude Texas petroleum.

Mr. Wilson says that his company is now making arrangements for the building of ships to cross the Atlantic from New York to Liverpool, in the southwest of Ireland, in three and a half days. He says that allowing two hours from the company's pier in New York to Sandy Hook and 12 hours from Berghaven to London, passengers and mails would be carried from New York to London in a little less than four and a quarter days, taking into account delays incident to customs examination and the handling of baggage. He says that the vessels contemplated will have an average speed of 30 knots clear across the Atlantic.

This great speed is to be attained, and the company building the ships is going to make money out of the project through the use of the turbine engine and of crude petroleum for fuel. Hitherto it has been supposed that the cost of running an ocean liner much faster, for instance, than the Deutschland, would be too great, and too much cargo space would have to be sacrificed for boiler and engine rooms to make such vessels profitable. Just by way of showing that his company intends to make a good thing out of its four day boats Mr. Wilson says:

"Our intention has been to construct and run first class mail steamers to Europe which shall cross the Atlantic in four days, conveying the Saturday's mail from the New York postoffice to the London postoffice on the following Thursday. At present it is not distributed in London until Monday morning of the next week. The compensation allowed by law for the mail matter which left New York for Europe on Saturdays in 1900, if it had been conveyed in vessels of United States register, would have been $545,686, or $10,500 for each weekly voyage. The Cunard line, which actually carried it, received the reduced rates allowed to foreign ships, or only $154,721. The post office department gives the mail to the fastest ships without regard to nationality.

"To enable our ships to cross in four days and pay their way it was evident that great improvements were necessary in the engine room to reduce the cost of fuel and wages. The machinery to our ships will occupy a comparatively small space in the stern.

"It takes 3,200 tons of coal, costing about $9,000, to carry the Deutschland across in 5½ days. It will take 800 tons of crude Texas oil, costing $4,000, to take our ships across in four days. This represents a saving of $5,000 a trip, or $291,200 a year in fuel alone. Besides this we save the wages of all stokers, coal trimmers and half the engineers, which may be estimated at $2,200 a trip or $114,400 a year.

"The difference in the cost of machinery on the Deutschland and on our boats will be about $175,000 on one ship. Another thing that must be borne in mind is that we require none of the valuable parts of the ship for the storage of fuel. Our fuel is carried in ballast tanks in the bottom of each vessel, thus economizing the ordinary amount of space used on the ordinary steamers for fuel."

Mr. Wilson doesn't say when his company is going to begin the construction of the four day ships, but the probabilities are that the first one will not be ready for service during this year at least.

The Scientific American evidently thinks there may be something in the four day steamers, for in an article on "Atlantic Steamships—Present and Future," printed a while ago, it said:

"If a 20 knot transatlantic steamer makes its appearance within the next few years, it is safe to say that it will be driven by the combination of water tube boilers, using hot forced draft, with fast running reciprocating engines, using superheated steam, or with turbines of the Parsons type. So great will be the reduction of weight and saving of space achieved by this change that it will be quite within the possibilities to produce on a displacement not much greater than that of the Deutschland a 30 knot ocean steamer that shall have equal accommodations for passengers."

THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT RECEIVES BY WIRE THE TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE SERVICE OF THE SCRIPPS-McRAE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

No wonder Hanna says that "trusts are a good thing." He speaks whereof he knows, for he has succeeded in organizing in this state what is known as the "Cleveland Consolidated Coal Co." which will control the coal output of Ohio and squeeze everybody who uses coal for fuel. The well-to-do can stand the rob, but next winter, when the hunger-pinched poor have to pay the big advance that will be added to the price of coal, each one should know that it is Mark Hanna, the Republican boss, who compels them to pay an extra price for the poor privilege of keeping warm.

According to Admiral Bob Evans, Schley's delay at Charlevoix was because Admiral Sampson had not informed him of the capture of the Brooklyn, of a code of signals for communicating with the insurgents on shore, and the possession of which would have enabled Schley to have known in an hour's time that the Spaniards were not at Charlevoix. The code had been communicated to all the Captains of the fleet, except the captain of the Brooklyn, on which Schley was on duty. This looks very much as if there was a deliberate attempt to place Schley at a disadvantage at the outset.

KILBOURNE'S LABOR RECORD.

The Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, Col. James Kilbourne, has a record in relation to his employees in the Kilbourne implement factory at Columbus, which is expected to make him popular with the state's labor vote. According to a sketch of his life printed in the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune, a political opponent, he has never had a strike and has never reduced wages. When the panic of 1893 came it was feared that he might have to cut down the pay of his men, and he went before them and asked if they would accept a reduction in case of necessity. The reply was that they would, but he never made the reduction and kept the mill going throughout. This cost the company something, but its affairs had been so well managed with an eye out for just such an emergency that its financial strength was not seriously injured.—Pittsburg Post.

"LOCAL IMPERIALISM."

"Local Imperialism" is the term applied by protesting Ohio Republicans to describe the iron rule of Senator Hanna as the boss of their state organization and the source of power to which all Ohio members of the Republican party must look for whatever of reward or honor is to come to them in public life.

The term is a graphic one, admirably fitting the case. It is doubtful whether a more autocratic figure has ever been known in American politics than that of Mark Hanna. He is not only a dictator in Ohio. He is the one who must be obeyed in the national councils of the Republican party. He is the controlling spirit of the national administration, directing the president's policies. He is the power behind the throne, in front of the throne, on both sides of the throne.

It is instructive to remember that Mark Hanna did not appear in American public life until that moment when un-American conditions demanded that the American trusts should have a political representative masterful enough to see that their will was carried out by the government. Then Hanna came into view, the man and the hour arriving simultaneously. Up to that moment he had devoted himself to money making. He brought his commercial methods into his public life.

The Hanna training of William McKinley for the presidency then began. Mr. McKinley's debts were paid by a friendly syndicate under Hanna's direction. A campaign fund contributed by the trusts was lavishly used to insure the election of McKinley delegates to the Republican national convention of 1896. Money and political power as the representatives of the trusts enabled Hanna to insolently dictate the nomination of McKinley.

A gigantic slush fund brought about McKinley's first election. His utter subservience to the will of the trusts as expressed through Hanna made it certain that he would be re-nominated. The same evil influences compelled his re-election. Hanna, the trust and the mighty dollar have been Mr. McKinley's stars of destiny.

Under the Hanna-McKinley regime it is now "local imperialism" in Ohio, the president's and Mark Hanna's state. It means political death to oppose them in Ohio. Under this same regime it is world-wide imperialism in this government's foreign policies. The Republican who protests is condemned and punished as a traitor.

Under this regime it will be national imperialism and the complete repudiation of all true American doctrine in a little while. The Hanna-McKinley partnership controls the government, and the Republican national machine can compel these things. The prospect is ominous. Mark Hanna's burly and insolent figure is the most menacing that has ever appeared in American political life.—St. Louis Republic.

HERBERT SPENCER'S HUMOR

The Aged Philosopher Holding His Own Against Time.

Although Herbert Spencer is 82 years old, he is said to possess a tremendous amount of vitality, says the London Truth. On his last birthday he humorously remarked to one of his friends, "I've carried and judiciously play I hope to be able to finish the game of 100 up." Mr. Spencer lives at Brighton, and the Duke and Duchess of Fife frequently drop in and have a chat with him. "You have never yet gone in for photography, have you?" said the duchess to him a short time ago. "No, your royal highness, I have not," was the reply. "I really think, however, that I must take up this hobby. It will be a nice amusement for me when I grow old."

AN ECHO OF PLAIN DUTY

Republican Newspapers Swallow a Mess of Crow.

ANYTHING FOR GOOD OF PARTY.

Advise Their Readers to Stand by Whoever the Candidate or However Unpalatable the Platform—Influence Which Denied Porto Ricans Their Rights Still Active.

Republican partisan newspapers can swallow quite a dinner of crow when they have to for the good of the party. They make a few very faces, but always end up by advising their readers to stand by whoever may be the candidate or however unpalatable the platform.

In commenting on this peculiarity the Washington Post says: "Among the most influential of the great mass of Republican papers that stood for 'our plain duty' and against the Republican majority in congress was the Chicago Times-Herald, now The Record-Herald. Referring to the action of the Porto Rico assembly, by which free trade with the United States is now ushered in, that paper says: 'It brings the situation around to what Porto Rico ought to have had as a matter of right by the circuitous route of a 15 per cent concession to expediency.'"

The Inter Ocean, a Republican organ of approved fidelity, treats this subject at some length. It says that "after three years of quibbling and evasion does the 'plain duty' of the United States to Porto Rico promise to become a fact." Going into the history of the great feud, The Inter Ocean speaks its mind with charming frankness. It recalls the fact that General Miles promised the Porto Ricans American rights, that the president said that to grant to them free trade was our plain duty and that in response all the people said 'Amen.' Then, it says, the best sugar lobby came to Washington with Oxnard and Myrick in charge, and there was a panic. And The Inter Ocean continues in this refreshing manner: "The ways and means committee rallied around the lobby and demanded a Porto Rican tariff as a 'warning precedent' against Philippine sugar. They declared the Porto Ricans too poor to support their local government in the usual way. How mean too poor to pay taxes on their luxuries could pay the Oxnard tariff on their necessities they could not explain, but they insisted on the tariff."

"Then the Porto Ricans proceeded to give the lie to the Oxnard lobby and its congressional helpers. With the aid of American experts they reorganized their finances and spent great sums on schools and public parks. They will spend this year nearly $2,000,000, and they have done and are doing all this without touching one dollar of the Oxnard duties collected at our custom houses. That money, nearly $600,000, lies untouched in the treasury at Washington."

"Thus have the Porto Ricans themselves proved the folly as well as the bad faith involved in congress' disavowal of 'our plain duty.' Thus have they demonstrated to all future congresses the futility of a course that would ignore national duty and honor at the behest of a few greedy interests."

"All this is worth recording because of its bearing on an extremely interesting chapter of history. And it has other values, for the 'Oxnard lobby' or its equivalent is still in business. The same influences that brought about the abandonment of 'our plain duty' toward Cuba a kick when she asks the United States for annexation. Meanwhile they mean to do unpleasant things in various directions, especially toward the Philippines."

How Hanna Wins Elections.
The Hanna system of winning elections is a unique one. Promise anything and buy all in sight would be a fair way of putting it. Senator Scott of West Virginia was the head of the promising bureau, and he does not seem to have been chary in making them, especially to the old soldiers. The administration after election was over was not free in redeeming these election vote getters, and Evans is still commissioner of pensions, much to the disgust of General Dan Sickles and the other veterans. Hanna should make McKinley redeem those drafts on credit.

Where to Economize.
A free press has hitherto been one of the boasts of a free people, but the effort is being made to restrict the circulation of a class of weekly publications on the score of economy. We are informed that Postmaster General Smith "will soon issue an order to remedy the abuses in second class mail matter." If he would turn his attention to the padded weight and pay allowed the railroads for handling this second class matter, a much greater saving could be made without interfering with the newspapers of the common people.

Health Not a Success.
Perry Heath, the secretary of the Republican national committee, seems to be about as fortunate in his financial undertakings as in his political recommendations. He organized the Seventh National bank that failed recently and the Cuban appointments.

Doesn't Fear the Trusts.
From appearances the Russian minister, De Witte, has a good deal the best of the tariff fight with Secretary Gage and his tariff experts. But De Witte does not have to how down to the sugar and Standard Oil trusts.

STEEL TRUST PROFITS.

Extortion Practiced by the Combine on American Consumers.

All the Democrats and some of the Republicans are agreed that the tariff must be reformed, and there should be no difficulty if congress is alive to the occasion in abolishing the duties on trust productions that are sold to foreigners for less than in this country—the steel trust, for instance, of which the New York World says, "It costs nearly $12 a ton to carry American steel billets to a British port and thence by rail to an inland British city."

"The United States Steel corporation is now, according to London advices, delivering them to British buyers in the Black country, back of Birmingham, paying all freight charges, at $25 per ton, $3 per ton less than the lowest market price for British made billets."

"The price charged by the United States Steel corporation for its billets to American buyers at Pittsburgh is from $24 to $25 per ton."

"This proves conclusively that the steel trust is making a profit of at least $10 a ton on every ton of steel billets sold in this country over and above the profit, which satisfies it on its sales."

In Great Britain, for of course the trust is not constantly seeking foreign trade at a loss. And still the steel trust managers are not ready to give up that $7.54 per ton duty on foreign made billets.

"Abolish the garrote on the American consumer, and Americans would be able to buy their steel billets as cheaply as Englishmen."

And yet protectionist Republicans are defending that duty on the ground that it would be free trade to abolish it, and the administration plan is reciprocity, which is intended to protect the trusts by placing tariff revision in the hands of the executive and senate instead of congress, where it constitutionally belongs.

POLITICAL FINANCIERS.

Perry Heath and His Connection With Seventh National Bank.

Speaking of the failure of the Seventh National bank of New York and the fact that Perry Heath, secretary of the Republican national committee, had organized the syndicate that purchased it, the Detroit Free Press says: "But there should have been some difference paid to the report attack upon Mr. Heath in congress by Representative Salzer of New York. It will not dispose of him to say that he is a violent man and liable to French upon the inhibited when he is aroused. On the door of the house he openly charged Mr. Heath with gross and varied acts of crookedness. It was specific in his charges. He named time, place and would sting any innocent man into instant and indignant denial. Yet he defied the accused to proceed against him for bearing false witness. He urged his personal and property responsibility and did everything that would tend to draw a man of spirit into the open."

"Mr. Heath did not appear. He has entered nothing more than a general denial, if that. Every move in the Seventh National may have been an honest one and honestly carried out. But the fact remains that it was questionable business judgment to tie up with a man who rested under a cloud that he had been challenged before the country to remove."

FARMER WILSON'S WAY.

Unique Scheme For Smashing the Sugar Trust.

Good old Farmer Wilson, the secretary of agriculture, says the Chicago Journal, bears to the nation's ears the cheering tidings that the sugar trust is about to be smashed and ruined. How is this much desired result to be produced? Why, by the extension of the best sugar industry.

"The trust," says Mr. Wilson, "will vanish then, for the reason that it refuses imported brown sugar, while all the American factories will furnish the finished product and place it in entire readiness for sale on the markets."

As the American Sugar Refining company owns all the best sugar factories in the country and will own all that may hereafter be built, it is evident that Farmer Wilson should stick to his weevils and leave the field of financial and economic speculation to Brother Gage.

Perils of Trust Inflation.

With banks breaking in this and other countries, that was good advice that the president is reported to have given: "What we want to do now is to be prudent in our prosperity. Whatever comes, let us be fortified by the practice of economy." There is no doubt that President McKinley can see perils ahead in the inflated trust prosperity. But how are the thousands whom the were not reached to practice economy when it takes all they earn to live? But perhaps the president was giving his advice to Wall street and the trusts.

Explanation in Order.
Bank failures are becoming epidemic not only in the United States and Germany, but in Russia, where in the southern part of that empire there is a financial panic. These are all gold standard countries, with the banks under the control of the government. What is the matter with the finances of these countries? Perhaps Secretary Gage will explain.

Another Brand.
Another scandal in the Philippines is reported, and the commission has ordered Phelps Whitmarsh, the governor of Benguet province, to report at Manila for investigation. He is accused of acquiring land and mining rights of the natives by using his official influence. It is not likely that he will be found guilty unless he has no Republican backing.

BALLY ROUND THE FLAG.

Rights of the American People at Stake.

ALASKAN FRONTIER PUSHED BACK

Great Britain Has Acquired a Strip One Hundred Miles Wide in the Porcupine District—Advancing Toward Tide Water by Leaps and Bounds—Time For Action.

The servility and cringing of the Republican administration to Great Britain have aroused even the Washington Post to protest, and this is what it says: "We make our compliments to Mr. George Miller, attorney at law, Eugene, Or. Mr. George Miller seems to be the kind of a man we need along our frontier, especially that which touches British America. We need about 75,000 of him, stationed in small detachments at very brief intervals and so equipped as to be able to shoot down British flags instead of resorting to the comparatively respectful method adopted by Mr. Miller."

"We have needed such men in large numbers for some years past. We need them more and more urgently with each new demonstration of the Anglo-American policy of our government, with each new modus vivendi and each additional recrudescence of the high joints. We have been dwelling in an atmosphere of affectionate internationalism at such, under cover of which British encroachments and American groveling have gone steadily along, with government approval on either side. England has buried our seal fisheries rights in the tomb we call the high joint commission, she has acquired a slice of our Alaskan territory about the size of the state of Rhode Island in the name of a modus vivendi, she has resurrected, with the eager assistance of our state department, the long dead and thrice dishonored Clayton-Bulwer treaty of 1859, she has put our whole official establishment under a spell of flunkeyism, and we have received in return for all this the banquetting of a few American tradesmen and politicians, some inexpensive guff in the London newspapers and a puddle or two of British slobber, signifying nothing."

"But the American people ought to have something to say to this. Their rights are at stake. In the Porcupine district, where our frontier was pushed back 100 miles, Americans by the thousand were expropriated against their wills, to their shame and indignation. And now we have from the Skagway News an account of the British aggression and systematic insolence which provoked Mr. George Miller to check the march of England's pirate flag last week. It will repay perusal."

"The question which bids fair to assume international proportions as soon as the news of it can reach Ottawa and Washington is being discussed today, with the mass of sentiment in favor of the man who hauled down the flag. On this strip of land, which the United States has occupied undisputed since the days of transfer in 1867, the Canadian officials have gradually encroached, unrestrained by the American government."

"By leaps and bounds the Canadian customs house advanced toward tide water—from English to Bennett, then to Log Cabin and lastly to the summit—and when the customs engine of Canada was hoisted at Skagway it is small wonder that some John Brown would not wait for the action from Washington and cut down the flag."

Upon the whole, it was well he didn't wait for "action" from Washington. Had he done so the British flag would have moved proudly on to tide water without let or hindrance. Action from Washington, when it interferes with any of England's schemes, has not been a feature of our national policy since Cleveland trod upon the advancing foot and called, "Stop thief!" in a tone that made Great Britain gasp.

What we want and must have, unless we propose to surrender everything that England covets, is action of the kind Mr. George Miller gave us at Skagway. We want just such men all along the line—want them armed not only with good guns, but with the knowledge that a few millions of fighting Americans are behind them. They cannot too soon meet this insolent British encroachment with the shot that will lead to a rehabilitation of our frontier and our self respect.

But what can we expect of the leaders of the Republican party, who are intent on commercialism in partnership with their London associates?

Chandler's Easy Job.
Ex-Senator Chandler knows a good thing when he has it. For this reason he is carefully nursing the Spanish claims commission so as not to run out of a job. The commission will sit during the whole of the summer, but a clerk or two will do the business, the commissioners finding the granite hills of New Hampshire or the sorciest resorts more cool and comfortable than Washington.

Deputy Will Tell Us.
That valiant gentleman, Senator Depew, before he left for Europe boasted of his friendship with the two or three men in each country that control political affairs. He is gone to have a confidential chat with them and will perhaps later let us know just where we are on tariff and other matters in our dealings with the foreigners.

Air on the Free List.
The air is still on the free list, but if a combine should be formed to control it the Republican protectionists would no doubt grant the monopoly tariff protection when congress meets.

ITALIANS

Cause Trouble on the P., Ft. W. & C.

Riding to Bucyrus on a Stolen Handcar,

Regardless of the Risk of a Collision With Trains—A Target Man Assaulted and Injured by Tramps.

Capt. Stoll and his patrolmen on the Pennsylvania are having their hands full with a gang of Italians employed on the grading at Nevada. A half a dozen of them got on a lark Sunday and stole a hand car which they rode to Bucyrus regardless of the risk of a collision. They were caught and held for them.

Delphos Made Division Point.
Delphos gets another slice of the Clover Leaf. An official announcement was made yesterday that the division headquarters is to be taken from Frankfort, Ind., and established at Delphos, and a building will be erected at the shops for the officials, and six operators and clerks will soon be settled there.

General Notes.
The biggest day in the history of Port Wayne shophmen will be the athletic and field day events, which is dated for August 10th. The Pennsylvania road has agreed to make a low rate from all points along the line between Lima and Plymouth, Ind.

James Hackett, night tower man at the crossing of the Pennsylvania and the Toledo and Ohio Central roads at Bucyrus was found beside the tracks unconscious early Sunday morning and died later in the day. His body was badly cut and bruised, but there is a suspicion that he was assaulted by some ugly looking tramps seen about the place on Saturday and then placed where a train could hit him, in order to cover up the crime.

C. H. & D. Notes.
George Taylor of the machine shop, is laying off duty on account of the illness of his mother.

Henry Niles, a hattermaker in the Clover Leaf shops at Delphos, spent Sunday with his wife at his home, Co. north, Main street.

The 209 was sent to the boiler shops yesterday for repairs.

Jack Hanson has given up his position in the tool room and will go to bring on the L. E. & W.

INGLEDUE'S HAMS

Won't make you mad.

RECEIVER

Appointed to Take Charge of Affairs at the Oak.

Upon application of L. M. Brooker, partner with Geo. W. Crouson, as proprietors at the Oak, Judge Davies appointed a receiver this afternoon to take charge of affairs. Frank Baxter was appointed to the position and gave bond in the sum of $10,000.

Our Trade With Germany.
Washington, July 30.—Ambassador White has made the subject of United States trade with Germany the basis of a special report to the state department. He shows that in the course of 10 years the United States had advanced from fourth to first place on the basis of goods shipped to Germany, the total value of such goods and natural products in 1900 being $266,750,466. The United States thus stands far above any other country in this trade. On the other hand, in the matter of goods imported from Germany, the United States has stood in third place, without change for the 10 years, the value of the imports in 1900 being $361,432,466.

Whaleback Sunk.
South Ste. Marie, Mich., July 30.—The whaleback barge Sagamore, loaded with iron ore, was sunk in a collision with the Northern line freight steamer Northern Queen near Point St Ignace. Of the crew of eight men, Captain E. Jones, master of the Sagamore, Henderson, N. Y., and Ira Ivos, cook on the Sagamore, Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., were drowned. Burley Smith, seaman on the Sagamore, Woodville, N. Y., is missing.

Dumont's Airship.
Paris, July 30.—M. Santos Dumont made another successful experiment with a dirigible balloon, sailing it from St. Cloud to the Longchamps race course, around which he steered the balloon and ascended and descended, occupying 20 minutes of time, asked to make an attempt to go around the Eiffel tower, the aeronaut declined, saying his motor was not yet working as well as he wanted. The weather was cloudy which may have influenced his decision.

Dressed chickens at Townsends.

Beer Reconcentrated Camps.

Chicago, July 30.—The horror of the situation in the Beer reconcentration camps of South Africa is appalling. Men, women and children are dying at a rate that would mean the extermination of the Boer race in nine years. The people are crowded up in unsanitary quarters, where they are unable to secure sufficient food or clothing, with disease making terrible ravages among them. This was the situation in the Transvaal and Orange Free State depicted at the Christian Reformed church by Rev. Herman D. Van Broekhuizen, late pastor of the leading Dutch Reformed church at Pretoria. He came to the United States to raise money to alleviate the sufferings of his countrymen who are crowded together in refugee camps.

Yenowine's Copy All In.
Milwaukee, July 30.—George H. Yenowine, 46, one of the best known newspaper men in the west, died Sunday. He was connected with The Evening Wisconsin in this city many years, after which he launched Yenowine's News, a Sunday society paper. Mr. Yenowine disposed of his paper to accept a position as editor of the Sunday Louisville Courier Journal, where he remained several years, returning to Milwaukee about a year ago. He was one of the founders of the Milwaukee Press club. Mr. Yenowine leaves a widow and son.

Indians Killed Prospectors.
Seattle, Wash., July 29.—The first authoritative account of the recent killing of three prospectors on Unalakleet Island, Alaska, by Indians, has reached Seattle. A survivor of the attack, D. Jackson of Idaho tells the story. It is that P. J. Rooney of Seattle, C. S. Sullivan and F. Sullivan, brothers from Butte, Mont., and himself, landed at Cape Lipin, Unalakleet Island, May 12, to prospect the country. June 7, while they were prospecting, Indians stole their guns and ammunition and killed three of them on their return to camp. Jackson escaped and finally reached Pella Pass, where he was rescued.

Tape For an Aged Veteran.
Marshalltown, Ia., July 29.—James C. Cheney, the oldest inmate of the Iowa soldiers' home and a veteran of the Independent Brady guards of Detroit in the Canadian rebellion of 1838, is dead, here aged 92. He was admitted to the home under a special act on account of bravery in service.

Ditely Defeated.
Columbus, O., July 29.—At the meeting of the state Democratic executive committee Charles F. Gilliam of this city was elected secretary. Chairman Daugherty having opposed the election of R. M. Ditely of Highland county. W. C. Orr of Columbus was elected treasurer of the committee.

Cleveland Wrestler Won.
Cleveland, July 30.—Tom Jenkins of Cleveland won out of three falls from Charles Wittner of Cincinnati at League park. The contest involved the mixed style championship and a purse of 1,500. The first fall was won by Jenkins, the second by Wittner and the third by Jenkins.

Successful Sham Battle.
London, July 30.—The first sham battle in the British naval maneuvers took place off the Solly Islands, with the theoretical result that the defending fleet was annihilated. The channel is now apparently at the mercy of the enemy. There were 15 cruisers supposititiously sunk.

Civil Service In Hawaii.
Washington, July 30.—Civil Service Commissioner Rodenburg returned from the official trip to Hawaii taken by himself and Chief Examiner Seven of the commission. Mr. Rodenburg says an excellent civil service system is in operation in Hawaii.

Secretary Root's Stenographer.
Washington, July 30.—Wendell W. Mischler of Ohio has been appointed stenographer to Secretary Root to succeed Frederick D. Squiers, resigned. Mr. Mischler has been discharging the duties of the place under detail for some months.

The Weather.
For Ohio—Partly cloudy; fresh westerly winds.

MINUTE BUT MIGHTY.

Tele Telegrams Terribly Traced on the Tablet of Time.

Paul Alexis, the French novelist, is dead.

SCHLEY INQUIRY COURT.

Interesting Reminiscences of the Men Who Compose It.

ADMIRAL BENHAM'S EXPLOIT.

How the Hero of Rio de Janeiro Protected the American Flag—Admiral Kimberly's Bravery at the Apia Disaster—A Notable Incident—Facts About Captain Lemly.

The members of the Schley-Sampson court are distinctively fighting men. Each has been connected with a celebrated event in naval annals. Of Admiral Dewey, the hero of the battle of Manila Bay, it is unnecessary to speak. His record is familiar to all. His associates, Rear Admiral Kimberly and Rear Admiral Benham, are both retired officers. The former was retired in 1892 and the latter in 1894. Admiral Kimberly is 71 years of age and Admiral Benham 69 years. Each saw over 45 years of active service. Both had fine records during the civil war. The great event with which Admiral Kimberly's name is associated is the destruction of the American fleet in the harbor of Apia, Samoa, during the terrible hurricane which occurred there in 1893. The story of that great disaster and the heroism displayed by the American officers and men, under the direction of Admiral Kimberly, thrilled the whole world and made an impression never to be forgotten.

The conduct of Admiral Kimberly during the storm called forth much praise from the seamen who were where they could see his action. Again and again, they said, he refused to put on a life preserver which members of his staff offered him, thinking probably that the men would gain confidence by seeing him thus coolly facing danger unprotected.

"He did not seem to care about his own safety," said one of the Trenton's survivors, "but his whole thought was how to get the Trenton down to the Vandalia to save the men in her rigging."

A notable incident of this catastrophe was Admiral Kimberly's action in unloading the Trenton's band on deck and playing "God Save the Queen" as the British cruiser Calypso, with more engine power than the other ships present, steamed out to sea and safety. The admiral, while in imminent peril of his life, with his ship grinding to pieces on the reef, recognized the seamanship and skill of the British exploit and lined up his crew and band on deck to cheer.

Admiral Benham is best known as the man who broke the blockade at Rio de Janeiro in the Brazilian rebellion of 1895 and not only enabled American merchantmen to discharge their cargoes, but gave the deathblow to the attempt to re-establish the Portuguese monarchy in Brazil. He made fruitless efforts through diplomatic means to secure permission from the rebels who controlled the navy of the republic for some American vessels laden with their discharge their cargoes at the Rio wharves. Finally he served notice on the rebel Admiral de Gama that he intended to convey the four vessels to the city. The little second class cruiser Detroit, under Commander Willard H. Brownson, now of the battleship Alabama, started by Benham's orders to escort two American merchantmen through the blockade line. Two rebel battleships, with shotted guns and their crews at quarters, barred the way. One of them fired a shot across the bow of the Detroit, and Brownson responded with a shell aimed at the hull of the Brazilian and shouted over the side that he would sink her if another shot was fired. This ended the incident and the revolution. De Gama attempted to surrender to Benham, but the latter refused to regard him as an enemy. Other foreign commanders followed the example of Benham, the blockade was completely broken, and the attempted restoration of the monarchy went to pieces.

A story is told showing Admiral Benham's coolness in danger. He and several companions were in ascension, the capital of Paraguay, one day when a score of Paraguayans attacked them. Fearing serious trouble, the companions of Benham advised a hurried run for their boats.

"I'll not run a d—d step," said young Benham, "for any man in Paraguay!" And he didn't. He walked calmly down to his boat whistling the "Star Spangled Banner," while the air around him was thick with stones and sticks thrown by the indignant Paraguayans. Captain S. C. Lemly is particularly well fitted for the exacting duties of judge advocate. He is now serving his third term as judge advocate general. He is a civil as well as a maritime lawyer. So far as known, he has never expressed an opinion as to the merits of either Rear Admiral Sampson or Rear Admiral Schley. He served with Schley in the Essex on the south Atlantic station and was a watch officer on board the Thetis, commanded by Captain Schley, which, with the Bear, formed the Greely relief expedition. Captain Lemly was judge advocate of the Jeannette court of inquiry.

QUICK LOADING OF SHIPS.

New Device Soon to Be Tested in New York Harbor.

The rapid loading or discharging of a vessel's cargo is always a matter of much importance and interest to shippers and ship owners. In the course of a few weeks a barge equipped with a patent device will be exhibited in New York harbor. It is known as an automatic vessel discharging and conveying apparatus and, according to the promoters of the enterprise, it will revolutionize the handling of grain, coal, oil, etc. The two main advantages claimed for this conveyor over present systems are the saving both in cost and time.

This new delivery barge is devised to overcome difficulties experienced in coaling warships and vessels of all kinds in dock and in harbor and especially in coaling them away from land, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. Its application, however, will extend, it is claimed, to the cheap and rapid handling of all kinds of materials now moved in vessels and barges and unloaded by the comparatively slow and costly means of buckets, shovels, barrows and the like.

The system, which is soon to be given a practical test at New York, consists of a barge or other vessel, a conveyor running substantially the length of the vessel on a line with the keel and with a compartment underneath the entire load carried, a feed controlling the flow of material upon the conveyor or conveyor belt, an elevator receiving the material as it is discharged by the conveyor and elevating same to a point above the deck of the barge, and an outboard conveyor to receive the material from the delivery end of the elevator and to discharge it at the point desired. All of the cargo may be elevated and unloaded at varying heights and angles.

The estimated cost of delivering material out of this patent barge is from 1 to 3 cents per ton, varying with the character of materials and the conditions of handling. The rates for unloading from barges now in use run from 15 cents to 40 cents and over. As to the saving in time, coal, for instance, cannot now be unloaded from barges and placed in steamships faster than 40 tons an hour, taking ten hours to unload the average barge of 400 tons. By the new system, it is asserted, coal can be delivered on steamer at the rate of from 200 to 300 tons an hour, according to the size of the coaling barge and conveyor belt used.

DARING FEMININE NIMRODS.

Three Denver Women to Hunt Lions Alone.

Three women have just started from Denver into the wilds of the Rocky mountains to hunt what mountain lions and other wild game Vice President Roosevelt left, says the New York Journal. They are Mrs. Jeannette Putnam, Mrs. Thomas Chivington and Miss Lou Bergh. It is their intention to beat the record made by the vice president in the lion killing line.

Mrs. Putnam is the champion woman shot of Wisconsin. She has hunted all through that state and brought down much big game. Mrs. Chivington is a Chicago society woman and has had no experience in this line. Miss Bergh is a Denver stenographer and likewise has had no experience. Speaking of the hunt the other day, Mrs. Putnam said: "We intend to go after big game while on our camping trip, and I feel sure we can make a better catch than our distinguished vice president did on his recent trip to the wilds of Colorado."

The party will travel by stage 25 miles from Gypsum, thence by wagon to Sweetwater lake, where the country is very wild, wildcats, mountain lions and bears being plentiful. They will sleep in a tent and eat nothing in the way of meat that they don't shoot.

Mrs. Putnam has been chosen guardian and general of the party, she having had much more experience in "roughing it." The party will remain two or three months.

CHAMPION WALL SCALERS.

Chicago's Crack Military Company, the Fusiliers, Will Tour Europe.

Chicago's crack military organization, the Fusiliers, has received its new uniforms. The men made their appearance in the uniforms at Santa Fe park a few days ago. They are making all arrangements, says the Chicago American, for a tour of Europe in 1902 for the giving of public entertainments. The Chicago Fusiliers were organized a little over a year ago by Captain G. A. Hurd, who organized and drilled the Aurora Zouaves. Since their organization they have been drilling twice each week. The company numbers 24 men, including the officers. Captain Hurd is assisted by Lieutenant C. E. Kestrew.

They have become better perfect in the manual of arms, and their execution of difficult maneuvers has been the subject of much praise. They handle guns at the rate of 150 revolutions a minute. Another feature they have introduced into their work is the scaling of a wall 14 feet in height, raising the American flag and firing 14 guns, in the quick time of 20 seconds. The company's record for getting over a 23 foot wall is 18 seconds, which beats all previous records by six seconds. The former record of 24 seconds was held by the Aurora Zouaves, who are now touring Europe. It is Captain Hurd's intention to increase the membership of the Fusiliers to 40 men.

Nerve Slavery

It is present-day conditions—heaping burdens of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health. It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves being go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:

- Throbbing, palpitating heart.
- Sleepless nights.
- Sudden startings.
- Morning languors.
- Brain fag.
- Inability to work or think.
- Exhaustion on exertion.
- Flashing appetite.
- Digestion slow.
- Food heavy.
- Exactly excited, nervous, irritable.
- Strength fails.
- Loss of flesh and muscular power.
- Settled melancholia.

DRINK

Was at the Bottom of it All

And the Scar

Left Will be an Ever
Present Reminder

Of What Came so Near Ending in a Tragedy at the Home of Prof. Frey.

The Latter Slashed His Wife's
Face With a Razor, the Gash
Eye to the Chin.

A distressing affair occurred early this morning in the apartment rooms occupied by Prof. and Mrs. Edward H. Frey, at 401 1/2 north Main street, and the outgrowth of a night's quarrel is that Mrs. Frey's face is terribly disfigured by the slash of a razor, while her husband, who delivered the cruel blow, is under arrest, charged with assault with intent to kill.

There is not little to the tragedy, the old threadbare story of a mind abused by drink covering the cause of what might have been characterized in the criminal courts of the city as murder. Yet it is but just to the defendant to say that he was not in a condition to be held responsible for an unprovoked assault. In his sensibility moments Eddie Frey is a gentleman at home and in public. He has, however, a bad habit which he controls for periods of considerable length, but when allowed its freedom, his appetite not infrequently gets the best of him, and, like most persons thus addicted, the fends gets the upper hand and even his closest friends refrain from crossing him in a set purpose.

It has only been a few years ago that the public was startled by the announcement of an affair very similar to that which occurred this morning, except that in the previous instance Mrs. Frey held the weapon and sent a bullet into her husband's head. It is only necessary to refer to the former difficulty, a repetition of the details being unnecessary, but it serves as a reminder that when drink gets the upper hand the faults of the one suggest a defense on the part of the other.

According to Prof. Frey's relation of the affair of this morning, he was the one to provoke the peace. He was seen at the city prison by a representative of the Times-Democrat, and it was evident even then that the condition he was in when he reached home this morning was such that merited the censure of his wife. To what extent the latter went in taking him to task need not be minutely investigated, as her attitude toward him, even if it went to extremes, was certainly pardonable. Frey says he tried to quiet her and told her to keep away from him, but that his words had little effect. He made the remark that his wife when angered, had proven the extent to which she would go, and that his getting possession of the razor from the cabinet was done more as a means of personal protection.

He declares that though intoxicated he had sufficient sense left not to purposely injure his wife, and that when the keen edge of the razor struck her he was throwing his arms wildly about and endeavoring to keep her from approaching him. Thus in the attitude of one thoroughly crestfallen and ashamed of his awful position before the public is the apologetic explanation of what bordered on a family tragedy.

AN UGLY WOUND

Which Will Be a Permanent Reminder of the Assault.

Mrs. Frey's injury is not a serious one, but according to Dr. T. M. Wendock, who attended her, there will be a permanent scar extending down the left side of her face. The razor point entered just above the left eye brow and cut downward through the face with a half circle movement, ending in a slight scratch just beneath the lower lip. The keen blade sunk deep above the eye, but fortunately passed the eye itself, barely touching the lid. Downward from the cheek bone the flesh was again penetrated to the depth of perhaps half an inch, but either the movement of the arm or Mrs. Frey's recoil from the attack, brought the knife again to the surface and the skin was barely touched below the mouth. The wound was given the dressing of a skilled hand with the intention of so closing it as to leave as little scar as possible but four stitches, one above and three below the eye were necessary.

Orders were given not to permit anyone to see the patient, as aside from the injury, Mrs. Frey is naturally excited and unstrung because of the unfortunate occurrence. She is resting as easily as could be hoped for and while her condition is not such as to cause alarm, it will be many days before she recovers from the effects of the wound and the attending circumstances.

INJURED WIFE

Fled From the Scene and Took Refuge
at the Hoffman House.

Immediately after the assault, Mrs. Frey ran from the rooms, descending the stairs to the back entrance and made her way across the street to the Hoffman house. She was closely followed by her husband who had now thrown aside his weapon and was trying to get her to return. The night clerk at the hotel came to the rescue and kept the two separated until the arrival of officer Seeds and Grant, who were telephoned for. They immediately placed Frey under arrest and took him to the station, later securing possession of the razor, the blade of which still bears the marks of the affray. Dr. Wendock was then summoned and took charge of the patient.

GAVE BOND

For His Appearance and is Now at Liberty.

Prof. Frey, represented by James J. Wendock, of the legal firm of Motter, Mackenzie & Wendock, was before the mayor this morning and after a short conference it was arranged for him to give bond in the sum of $250 for his appearance at such time as there may be a preliminary hearing. He was in conference again with a Times-Democrat reporter just after being released, and his first inquiry was regarding his wife's condition. There was unmistakable remorse written on his features and he said that it was his firm resolve to refrain from any further use of liquor. At that time he was just beginning to realize the enormity of his offense and hesitated in leaving the station because of having to face those who had been discussing the affair. He had been informed that it was the principal topic of conversation everywhere and he felt the disgrace keenly.

Mrs. Frey has been taken from her rooms and is now at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Abel, of east McKibben street, who are friends of the family, and will look after her until she fully recovers.

DRUG

May Have Caused the Death

Of a Machinist

Whose Lifeless Form
was Found

By Proprietress of the Boarding House Where He Roomed.

Ernest Andrews Found Dead in Bed
at 5 O'clock Last Evening—
Had Been Despondent
Several Days.

At 5 o'clock last evening Mrs. A. R. Guy, wife of the proprietor of a boarding house situated on north Jackson street, between Market and High streets, made the startling discovery that Ernest Andrews, a well known machinist who had been a boarder at her house for a few weeks, was dead in his room on the second floor of the house. He had been working at night and when, at 5 o'clock, as had been her custom since Mr. Andrews came there to board, she went to the stairway and called to awaken him. She received no response and becoming frightened she hastily summoned a neighbor named Metzger who upon ascending the stairs to Andrews' room saw at a glance that the young man had passed beyond the reach of all human assistance. The motionless form was lifeless and it was evident that the hand of death had visited the room several hours before the discovery had been made.

Coroner Burton was immediately summoned and after an examination of the body and the room he ordered the remains removed to Jones & Williams' morgue. The cause of death was not apparent and as there were circumstances attending the death that were grounds for the suspicion that the young man had committed suicide, a post mortem examination was conducted over the remains by Coroner Burton and Dr. Blee this morning. They found no indications of death having resulted from natural causes but did find the stomach in such a condition as to strengthen the suspicion that the death was due to the use of poison. The stomach was removed from the body and its contents will be subjected to a chemical analysis. This test may require several days and unless some positive evidence of suicide is found elsewhere, the result of the test will be necessary to establish the cause of the death. Coroner Burton will conduct his inquest Thursday.

Andrews was employed at the Lima Locomotive & Machine Co.'s works on east Market street and was known as a competent machinist but for some time he had been subject to attacks of despondency and at intervals he would resort to dissipation. Several weeks ago he and his wife separated and during the past week he had seemed despondent on account of his wife's absence and frequently spoke of her. Saturday evening he complained of being ill and did not go to his room but was found asleep on the porch at 5 o'clock Sunday morning by Mr. Guy, who persuaded him to enter the house and lay on a cot down stairs. He remained there until about 10 o'clock and then went to his room and remained there until about 2 o'clock when he left the house and was absent until 10 o'clock yesterday. At that time he went directly to his room and was not again seen alive. Mrs. Guy heard him moving about his room about noon and it is believed his death occurred shortly after that hour. There is evidence that he suffered convulsions before death ensued and as he was heard to remark that he had taken something he should not have taken the theory of suicide seems the most logical one advanced.

The victim of this deplorable death was a son of Mrs. Rebecca Andrews, of north Metcalf street and a brother of Elmer Andrews who is now located at Oil City, Pa., and who for several years held the position of assistant city civil engineer in this city. Ernest Andrews was married several years ago but leaves no children.

Arrangements were made this afternoon to hold the funeral services from the home of the deceased's mother at 121 north Metcalf street at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The services will be conducted by Rev. Deer, of the First Baptist church and the remains will be consigned to a final resting place in Woodlawn cemetery.

SERIOUSLY

Ill are Henry VanGuntlen and His Eldest Son.

Five of the Family Poisoned by Some Ham They Ate Last Evening—Others Recovering.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanGuntlen and two children and Mrs. David Beeler suddenly became quite ill and the physician who was called found all of them suffering from symptoms of poisoning. All of the patients were under the care of a physician last night and today all were pronounced out of danger except Mr. VanGuntlen and his oldest son. They are still dangerously ill and may not be able to be about for several days. It is the supposition that they were poisoned by some of the food they partook of at the supper table last evening and the cause is attributed to some ham of which all ate.

Committees Put in Another
Day Selling Lots

And Tonight the Solicitors Will Hold a Meeting for Discussion at Cable and Parmenter's Offices.

The soliciting committee put in another hard day's work, refusing to be discouraged by what appears still to be a hesitancy on the part of Lima citizens to take hold of the Lima Machine Works proposition. Lots are being sold, it is true, but not at the rate which insures an early completion of the project. The sales are yet below the 200 mark leaving at the least 200 lots to be disposed of.

Tonight at Cable & Parmenter's office a meeting of all the committees will be held and as some of the gentlemen who have tramped over the city for the past two days are feeling the effects of their labors, they ask for volunteers to aid in keeping up the work. They have determined to put the scheme through, but it is only just that they demand assistance from every person in a position to push a little.

The result of the week will likely foot up well in the aggregate, but those who are yet "making up their minds" should come to conclusions with as little delay as possible and by taking a lot thus advance the work so earnestly begun and persisted in. Look at this proposition seriously and when all of the points of advantage are considered, it will commend itself to every sensible business man.

RELEASED

Were the Boys Who Were Charged With Larceny.

One Confessed He Alone was Guilty and on Promise to Replace the Loss He was Dismissed.

The two young boys named Slawson and Diehl, who were arrested on charges of having over ten dollars worth of old coins from a man named Sutherland at the boarding house kept by the Slawson boy's mother on south Main street, were arraigned before Mayor McComb this morning and both were dismissed from custody. The Slawson boy admitted that he committed the theft and that the Diehl boy was not guilty of the offense. He promised to replace the loss to Mr. Sutherland and has already returned $5 of the missing money.

PERFORMANCES

That Were Not on the Bill
Given at McBeth's.

Four Men and One Woman Took a
Bath in the Lake, With Street
Clothes on, Sunday.

At the McBeth park Sunday afternoon and evening there were two amusing performances given in addition to the regular program for the opening of the new week and manager Maxwell and excursion agent Richmond are both now entitled to medals as life savers.

The first extra performance was given about 3 o'clock. Three young men who were out for a good time at any cost rented a boat and one of them pretended he was going to upset it at the landing. "Wait till we get out in the middle of the lake," said another of the trio, "and I'll show you how to upset a boat." He made his promise good and about three minutes later three heads and the keel of a boat were seen above the surface of 15 feet of water in mid-lake. One of the trio could swim and headed for shore immediately but the other two held fast to the boat and were rescued by manager Maxwell. He remitted the price of the boat and charged each for a bath.

About 8 o'clock in the evening another aquatic performance was given at the boat landing by a young woman and her male escort, who were a trifle unsteady on their pedals, probably on account of the heat. The girl lost her balance and plunged into the lake, her Galinsborough striking the water first and her trillies disappearing last. Here's where the excursion agent saw his opportunity for a big ad, and hastily spitting on the third finger of his right hand he plunged—onto the boat landing and grabbed the young woman when she came up to the surface sputtering like a runaway automobile. Just as he drew the drenched and frightened female out of the lake her escort bravely jumped into the water to rescue her. He was left to help himself out.

serving nearly two years among the Moros, the most savage of all tribes of the natives of the archipelago. The collection is invaluable and is a more complete one than is usually obtained by officers and men who serve in the army across the Pacific. There are dozens of different sizes and shapes of knives and swords and many different types of spears, poisoned arrows, helmets, hats, shields etc., and in addition to these weapons of warfare there are many domestic articles, including hand woven draperies and articles of domestic manufacture that are considered sacred. The valuable display will be retained in the window until every person in the city who desires may have an opportunity to see it.
